RULING ON ENTITLEMENT¹

Vowell, Chief Special Master:

On February 11, 2015, Virginia Ives filed a petition for compensation under the National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program, 42 U.S.C. §300aa-10, et seq.,² [the “Vaccine Act” or “Program”]. Petitioner alleges that she suffered a shoulder injury caused by the influenza vaccine she received on September 23, 2013. Petition at 1. Petitioner also alleges that her injuries lasted more than six months and that she continues to suffer the residual effects of her injury. Id., ¶ 18. The case was assigned to the Special Processing Unit of the Office of Special Masters.

On June 15, 2015, respondent filed her Rule 4(c) report in which she “recommends that compensation be awarded in this case.” Respondent’s Rule 4(c) Report at 1. Specifically, respondent “has concluded that a preponderance of evidence establishes that the injury to petitioner’s right shoulder was caused-in-fact by the administration of her September 24, 2013, flu vaccine, and that petitioner's injury is not due to factors unrelated to the administration of the flu vaccine." Id. at 3. Furthermore, respondent agrees that petitioner's injury lasted for more than six months. Id.

In view of respondent's concession and the evidence before me, I find that petitioner is entitled to compensation.
